

Abstract of the Disclosure

Systems, methods, and articles of manufacture for panelized construction of, renovation of, and addition to commercial, industrial, and other buildings. The systems and methods utilize prefabricated construction panels that may be attached 5 to one another and/or pre-existing building structures using a variety of attachment mechanisms. The construction panels may include pre-installed building subsystems, such as wire-based and mechanical subsystems.